

Terms & Conditions

The Company and the buyer expressly agree that until the Company has been paid in full for the goods supplied. The goods remain the property of the Company although the risk therein passes to the buyer at the point when delivery is made.

The Company may recover those goods at any time from the buyer in his possession if the Company judges that the amount outstanding from the buyer in the general statement of account between the parties is in excess of the credit limit the company is willing to accord to the buyer, and for the purpose the company's servants and agents may enter upon any land or building upon which the goods are situated.

If the buyer incorporates such goods into other products, with the addition of his goods or those of others, or uses such goods as materials for other products, with or without such addition, the property in those other products is upon such incorporate or use ipso factor transferred to the company and the buyer as bailee of them for the Company will store the same for the Company in a proper manner without charge to the Company.

The buyer has the right to dispose of the goods or such other products during his business for the account of the company and to pass goods title to the goods or products to his customer being a bona fide purchaser for value without notice of the Company's rights.

In the event of such disposal the buyer has the fiduciary duty to the Company to account to the Company for the proceeds but may retain therefrom an excess of such proceeds over the amount outstanding and due to the Company, and the company has the additional right to recover the buyer's price from the buyer's customer to the extent unpaid; if the Company avails itself of the right, it will account to the buyer for any excess less any expenses incurred by effecting recovery.

LIMITATION OF SELLERS LIABILITY: The buyer shall in no circumstances be entitled to recover from the Seller damages for any amount exceeding the Seller's invoiced price of the goods to the buyer. The buyer undertakes to indemnify the Seller against all claims relating to or arising from goods sold to the buyer by the Seller in respect of any loss, damage or expenses sustained by any Third Party howsoever caused.

All suppliers of Gordons Electrical Supplies should comply the requirements of this document. As a supplier of goods or services engaged by Gordons Electrical Supplies, you and your staff are required to comply with the requirements of our ISO9001 & ISO14001 compliant Integrated Management System. To that end, you must:

1. Be familiar with our Integrated Policy Statement (IF 01), available on our website and ensure that your carry out your work with this policy in mind.
2. Comply with our IMS principles as detailed within our Integrated Policy Statement and ensure that all works carried out do not impinge on Gordons Electrical Supplies' ability to adhere to these principles.
3. Understand that the work you do is important for us to meet the requirements of our IMS and most importantly, our customers. If you do not conduct yourself / provide your service resulting in a poor service to our customer, your actions will be investigated.

4. Carry out your service in a safe and environmentally friendly way to ensure that Gordons

Electrical Supplies minimises our impact on the environment and provides a safe environment for all those working for and on-behalf of the organisation. Deviation from these requirements will result in your actions being investigated. Examples of deviation would be:

a. Non-compliance with waste management arrangements (Hazardous & Non-Hazardous Waste) potentially resulting in Gordons Electrical Supplies being reprimanded by local authority, waste management company or NIEA due to a breach in legislation.

b. Not wearing appropriate PPE, misusing dangerous equipment or disregarding site safety rules creating an unsafe environment, potentially resulting in injury /death.

5. Ensure that you provide the goods or service required as detailed within our Purchase Order, along with any Certificates of Conformity as required by legislation, including the Construction Product Regulations (CPR) 2017.

6. Ensure that you quality inspect your product prior to sending the goods.

7. Ensure that those manufacturing the product are competent and do so using equipment and processes that will ensure the highest level of quality.

8. We will inspect the quality of product on receipt of said product, via a thorough visual inspection or a certification of conformity where we do not have the expertise to inspect product quality.

9. We will review your performance on a regular basis.